

Mayor to Set Election After Waiting Period

At a meeting last night Mayor H. M. Olsen told the Hope City Council he would make known the exact date June 6 for a second special election in setting up the city manager form of government.

"Hope cities voted for the manager type of government April 24 by a margin of 3 to 1. The election commissioners certified the vote to Mayor Olsen as 735 for and 245 against. The Mayor must wait 30 days before calling another vote to set up a board of directors. Actual vote on the directors can't be held in less than 60 days thereafter."

In other action the group refused to raise the salary of any new officer who has worked less than 12 months; discussed but took no action on purchase of a new fire truck which will run from $18,000 to $20,000; make known its intention of increasing the franchise tax of public utilities serving Hope; will serve notice on Tecumseh Construction Co. that the city expects all streets used by the firm in hauling road materials be left in the same condition in which they were found and voted to run an ad in the Star warning that no dead animals can be dumped at the city dump.

Texarkana JC Beauty Parade Is Tonight

The Texarkana Jaycees will sponsor the "Miss Texarkana" Pageant on the stage of the Paramount Theatre tonight beginning at 7:30 p. m. Almost a year of planning and preparation has gone in to this year's production, which promises to be the best yet.

This beauty and talent contest is the official preliminary Miss America contest for Miller and Bowie counties. The winner will be sent to either the Texas or Arkansas state pageants, depending on the state in which she resides.

Highlight of tonight's event will be the presence of Miss America herself, Miss Marian Ann McKnight of South Carolina. Miss McKnight will perform her talent routine which helped her win the coveted title of "Miss America."

This will be the record winning impersonation of Marilyn Monroe.

The contest will be judged according to the standards and rules of the Miss America Pageant. The three major phases of competition will be the evening gown, talent routine and the bathing suit competition.

Music will be provided by the "Blue Notes" Orchestra and supplemented by Bob Coselman and KCMC-TV at the Paramount organ. Les Eugene will serve as Master of Ceremonies for the Pageant.

General chairman for the Pageant is Henry Stephens, stage manager Joe Thomas, floral decorations for the stage by Harry Finley, Mel Cusin and Charles Carter, Jr. in charge of ticket sales.

Louisiana Man Joins Local Ram Plant

A. B. McCain, Lake Charles, La., who holds the title of World's Champion Goose caller, is now affiliated with Ram Wood Products, Inc. in the Proving Ground.

Mr. McCain, his wife Pat, and four children moved into their new home in Oakhaven this week. The newcomer to this section is a close friend of Jack Ray, co-owner of Ram Wood. Both men formerly worked for Cities Service at Lake Charles. Mr. McCain will be the "call tester" for the local plant which manufactures all kinds of duck, goose calls, water skis etc. He has had lots of experience in working out various calls to perfection.

Mr. Ray is rated the third man in the World's Goose Calling contest last year and both men will enter the contest this year as well as the duck calling contest.

Local Youth Program for Summer Outlined

A diversified Hope youth program for the summer months, largest ever scheduled for this city, was outlined to Hope Kiwanis club yesterday by Charles Gough, director of the Parks and Recreation Commission.

The summer program will include thousands of participants in various sports activities and is expected to attract additional thousands of spectators to K-Park and to Fair Park where baseball, football, swimming and other activities are planned.

The youth program also includes archery, rifle participation, skeet shooting which will be held at the municipal airport, and dancing and other activities at the Hope Youth Center.

Twenty baseball games have been scheduled for 50 boys ranging in age from 7 to 12. Another twenty games are scheduled for 90 boys ranging in ages 12 to 13.

A league has been organized for 60 boys from 13 to 15, and twenty games are scheduled for this group. The fastest league is made up of some 70 players ranging in age 14 to 18 and some twenty games are to be played.

Grade school flag football will attract 88 players, and nine games are scheduled, said Mr. Gough. The Junior Rifle club is composed of 90 members, both boys and girls and a lot of competition is scheduled. Main purpose of the rifle club is to learn the proper use of firearms and improve marksmanship.

Ike Scales Down His Foreign Aid

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. H. Alexander Smith (R-NJ) said today President Eisenhower is scaling down his foreign aid requests to "the minimum consistent with our own national security."

Smith, a member of the Senate Foreign Relations Committee, said he believes Congress will vote about $3,800,000,000 in military and economic assistance for the fiscal year starting July 1.

The President originally asked a total foreign aid program of $4,400,000,000, but has since suggested reducing that figure by 500 millions.

The revised program will be discussed with congressional leaders of both parties in a White House conference with the President tomorrow.

Postal Budget Expansion May Be Needed

WASHINGTON (AP) Postmaster General Summerfield advised Republican congressional leaders today that increasing mail volume may require expanding the 1938 postal budget by millions of dollars.

In the face of the congressional budget cutting drive, this word was offered at President Eisenhower's weekly meeting with GOP Senate and House leaders. Summerfield sat in on the session.

Senate Republican Leader Knowland of California said the required extra funds might be on the order of 43 million dollars. That is the amount of emergency funds Congress is providing to see the Post Office Department through the present fiscal year ending June 30. Summerfield asked for 49 million.

Knowland said Summerfield was advised of the importance of bringing this to the attention of a Senate Appropriations subcommittee which is working on the postal appropriation now. He said Summerfield had been in touch with the subcommittee chairman, Sen. Robertson (D-Va) and asked for an opportunity to present additional figures.

On civil rights, House Republican Leader Martin of Massachusetts said he hopes the Rules Committee will act a week from Friday. That could bring legislation to the House floor the following week.

Knowland said Senate hearings on this legislation, he understands, will begin Monday and possibly the bill will be approved next week by the Senate Judiciary Committee.

Cornbelt Buys 80 Acres for Big Expansion Here

Cornbelt Hatcheries has purchased the 80-acre Massey property and buildings just east of Hope on the Rocky Mound road and plan an expansion of their operations here it was announced today by Hope Chamber of Commerce. This is known as the Summerville place.

Buildings will be remodeled and administrative offices and a commercial egg grading station will be established at this central location, said John R. Randolph, general manager of Cornbelt Hatcheries.

"The 80 acres will also provide ample room for still future expansion of our operations here which are planned but not ready yet for public announcement," Mr. Randolph continued.

The administrative offices and the commercial egg grading station, at the outset will employ from 15 to 20 persons with additional employees later. Commercial eggs will be sized, candled and cartoned at the new grading station and operations there are expected to get underway by June 1.

Cornbelt's commercial egg program here at the present is producing 300 cases per week, is expected to jump to 400 cases per week within the next three months and by January to 1200 to 1400 cases per week.

The rapid increase in Cornbelt's commercial egg production in this area also means additional income for farm families and other persons and firms connected indirectly with the program.

For example, when production reaches 1400 cases per week, by January, it will mean eggs from fifty producing families, two trucks for transporting eggs, ten million pounds of feed per year, 52 refrigeration units, three feed trucks, a $200,000 investment in buildings and equipment, $225,000 invested in chickens and a total annual business of $800,000.

Announcement of Cornbelt's expansion program is the second within the past week for local industry. On May 1, the controlling interest in Southern Elmwood Corporation was purchased by Erie Corporation of Jackson, Miss.

The Erie Corporation announced plans for installation of new equipment which will lead to a substantial increase in production and the employment of 50 additional persons. The Erie Corporation produces particle board used in the home construction and furniture industries.

Strange But One Utility to Cut Rates

LITTLE ROCK, (AP) — Most utilities may be raising their rates, but the Arkansas-Missouri Power Co. wants to trim its customers' bills.

The firm yesterday filed with the Arkansas Public Service Commission a schedule of proposed rates which it said would lower its revenues by $38,185 annually.

Under the new schedule, all customers would pay a rate of a half-cent per kilowatt hour for all monthly consumption above a certain minimum usage.

Walnut Ridge and Hoxie customers in Arkansas could get an extra saving amounting to $8,704 per year. The firm proposed an extra slash in rates for those towns because they are contiguous.

Charles C. Czeschin of Blytheville, president of Arkansas-Missouri, said the reductions were due to improved economic conditions.

Arkansas-Missouri also has proposed a rate reduction to its Missouri customers and the total reduction for the two states would come to $64,760.

The company also announced yesterday that it plans a 50 per cent dividend for its common stockholders.

These announcements came at the same time the Eighth U. S. Circuit Court of Appeals at St. Louis affirmed a federal district court decision at Little Rock that Arkansas-Missouri was not entitled to a refund of $180,762.22 in federal income taxes it paid in 1930-42.

Youths Kill Man in Holdup Attempt

STERLING CITY, Tex. (AP) — Four boys only 12 and 13 years old were taken into custody last night after a filling station attendant was shot to death in an attempted holdup.

They were captured after their car ran a police roadblock and turned over at San Angelo, Tex., 43 miles southeast of Sterling.

Sheriff Bill Green of Sterling County identified them as Mike Martinez, 13; Herman Lee Wright, 13; Doyle Hall, 12; and Mickey Rocha, 13.

Martinez, Wright and Hall were slightly hurt when the car wrecked.

Lying on a stretcher at a hospital, young Wright asked policemen and Don Coppedge, a reporter for the San Angelo Times: "What happened to that guy in Sterling City?"

"He died," a policeman answered.

"I knew we shouldn't have done it, Mike shot him. I didn't know we were going to do it. Mike shot him six times. He ran to the car and said: 'Let's go on.' Then he made me give him more bullets."

All the boys live at Big Spring, 45 miles northwest of Sterling in west Texas. No charges were filed against them immediately.

Texas Negro Co-ed Plans to See Opera

By FRANK N. MANITZAS

AUSTIN, Tex. (AP) A University of Texas music major plans to see an undergraduate opera even though she was removed from a leading role because she is a Negro.

"Of course I'm going to see it," said Barbara Louise Smith, 19, Pittsburg, Tex. "We support these things."

State Rep. Joe Chapman of Sulphur Springs said he asked that Miss Smith be removed from the opera because, as he put it, "the people of Texas don't want mixing of Negroes and whites publicly and the University of Texas should not do it from that standpoint."

Chapman is a leader of a bloc of legislators demanding stronger segregation measures.

University officials refused to comment. President Logan Wilson was attending a convention in New York.

Miss Smith was reluctant to say specifically why she was taken out. She said only that it was not because of her singing ability.

"Don't you know that if it was my singing ability," she said in an interview, "I would never have been selected for the part in the beginning."

"I know how that it's too late to keep it quiet, but the less said the better. If anyone else wants to say why, that's their business."

The opera "Didon and Aeneas" was scheduled for performances Friday and Saturday at the university. Miss Smith was to play the lead role of Didon, founder and queen of Carthage in a Greek myth.

Some 50 Negro students were admitted to the university on the undergraduate level for the first time this year.

"There would have been nothing said about it if it hadn't been for a bunch of left-wing students out there rabble-raising," Chapman said. He said Miss Smith was removed from the lead about a month ago.

Pilot Dies in Training Plane

BAHREIN, Persian Gulf (AP) — One pilot was killed yesterday in the desert crash-landing of four U. S. jet training planes. The planes were part of the first flight of eight jet trainers to be turned over to the U. S. Military training mission in Saudi Arabia.

Air Force authorities identified the dead pilot as Capt. Roger W. Jellison, 29, of Bangor, Maine.

En route from Germany, the four planes ran out of fuel after encountering a violent, out of season desert storm. They were forced down 60 miles from the Dhahran airfield, their destination.

Wilson Orders Pay Increases for Military

WASHINGTON (UP) — Do-month for 360,000 enlisted men today ordered military pay raises ranging from $12 to $50 a month, Secretary Charles E. Wilson said today.

He said they will make it possible to reduce military manpower.

The raises cover 10 per cent of the enlisted men in the Army, Navy, Marines Corps, and Air Force. They will cost about 49 million dollars in the first year.

Wilson's new pay plan apparently was as far as he could go toward a complete overhaul of the defense as structure recommended by a committee under Ralph J. Cordiner, president of the General Electric Co.

The defense secretary said the raises can be paid without legislation.

By providing incentives for skilled men to stay in service, the raises "will make it possible to operate with fewer total numbers," Wilson said.

Announcement of the pay raise plan followed Cordiner's presentation to Wilson of the final report of the "defense advisory committee on professional and technical compensation."

Reporters were invited to the presentation ceremony but were barred by Assisted Defense Secretary Murray Snyder from questioning Wilson, Cordiner, and other committee members.

"That's all, gentlemen," said Snyder, Wilson's assistant for public affairs, after pictures were made.

At that point Wilson asked, "do you men of the press know what this is all about?"

An effort was made to ask questions but Snyder shooed reporters out, telling them their questions would be answered in a press release to be handed out immediately afterward.

Louisiana Anxiously Watches Red

NATCHITOCHES, La. (AP) — Anxious central Louisiana watched the crest of rampaging Red River inch slowly downstream today.

The muddy floodwaters spread out over thousands of acres of lowlands in Natchitoches and Northern Rapides parishes after escaping at points unprotected by levees.

out after passing Shreveport 60 miles northwest of here.

Natchitoches was isolated on three sides; floodwaters have closed roads to the north, south and east. The only link was the road to Many, to the west.

The indication of many pastures brought 12 state police cut the trucks into the area to help evacuate livestock.

Gov. Earl Long said yesterday he had asked Agriculture Secretary Benson to declare 14 parishes a flood disaster area. Such action would make available emergency feed for livestock and permit farmers to graze lands not in the soil bank.

Local Women Attend Savings Stamp Meet

A luncheon and conference was held at Winrock Farm on Tuesday with Mrs. Winthrop Rockefeller as hostess for the promotion of further selling savings stamps in the schools of Arkansas, and to encourage Thrift in the children.

Sid McMath is co-chairman of the saving Bond program and Mrs. Inez Compton is chairman of the Women's Division.

When the September term of school opens a saving stamp program will be started and the following ladies from Hope who attended the luncheon and conference will be co-workers.

Mrs. Cline Franks, Mrs. Dale Dunn, Mrs. Don Westbrook, Mrs. Graydon Anthony, Mrs. William Roulton, Mrs. William E. Butler, Mrs. Frank King, Mrs. Homer Beyerley, Mrs. E. P. Young Jr., Mrs. C. V. Nunn Jr., Mrs. H. E. McRae, Mrs. Duffie Day, Booth, Mrs. Jim LaGrossa, Mrs. Jim McKendree, Mrs. W. E. Waller, Mrs. Harold Porterfield and Mrs. Sam Strong. Mrs. Herbert Stegman represented Blovin Schools.

Mrs. Rockefeller, State Chairman, will attend a meeting with all Hempstead County women in August in Hope to discuss further the saving Stamp program.

Approximately 300 attended the luncheon and conference from various cities in Arkansas and as a result of the work done by Mrs. Rockefeller Arkansas ranks 1st in sales of savings stamps for the past year.

Oglesby Will Present Radio Program

Sixth Grade of Oglesby School will present the assembly program Thursday morning May 9th, under the direction of Miss Kathleen Broach.

Charles Beyerley will be Master of Ceremonies and the group will give a play "Blue Willow" by Doris Gates and adapted for radio by A. Murray Dyer. Jabo Howland will be Network Announcer; David Waddle Station Announcer; David Lou McKenzie, Carolyn McMillan and Patricia Goodwin Narrators; sound effects by Jerry Mullins and Charles Beyerley.

The cast of characters will be as follows: Janet Larkin, Ginny Warren; Jim Larkin, her father, Johnny Lamb; Mrs. Larkin, Sharon Kay Green; Lupe Romero, Janet's Mexican friend, Dora Ann King; Bounce, Rebyburn, Bobby Ward, Nils Anderson, David Waddle; Mrs. Anderson, Brenda Duffey; Doctor Peirce, Howard Byers.

Following the radio play the entire Sixth Grade will sing "Oh, Susanna" by Stephen Foster, accompanied by Ginny Warren and Sonja Yates on the accordion. The closing number will be "Oh, Lovely Meadows," a Czechoslovakian Folk Song sung by the Sixth Grade Girls and accompanied by Dora King on the piano.

Faubus Talking Up Slashes in Millage

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — Gov. Orval Faubus predicts that quite a few Arkansas school districts will be able to slash their millages in 1959 because of the property equalization program.

Faubus made the forecast yesterday in commenting on a Tax Assessment Co-ordination Division report that more than $500,000 worth of property had been added to tax lists in the last two years.

The report said valuations had risen by 100 million dollars and this brought in five millions in extra tax money.

Next year's school elections will be held in December instead of March and Faubus pointed out that equalization boards will have wound up their work by election time.

He said school boards then will know just what assessments are and will know what millage to recommend in order to produce money for schools. If assessments continue to increase, he said, many current high millage rates may be reduced.

Stormy Weather Hits Some Areas

By The Associated Press

Stormy and wet weather hit wide areas in the western two thirds of the country today but it was mostly fair and warm again in the eastern sections.

After several days of comparative mild weather in most of the nation, storms erupted yesterday and last night in parts of the central plains and upper Mississippi Valley. Tornado warnings were issued for areas in the Dakotas and Minnesota, but no twisters reported.

However, a funnel cloud was sighted near Aberdeen, S. D. Winds of around 40 m.p.h. whipped areas hit by the thunderstorms which spread from to Dakotas through Minnesota and into western Wisconsin during the night. Wind gusts of nearly 60 m.p.h. were reported at Sioux City, Iowa, earlier yesterday. Dust clouds reduced visibility to about a mile in northwestern Kansas.

Texarkana Youth Steals a Horse

LOS ANGELES (AP) — It was just like the old West for a while when a horse was stolen from a stable in the San Fernando Valley.

The police remembered the correct procedure in such cases — head 'em off at the oars — and orralled Bob Adams, 19, Texarkana, Tex. about 30 miles out of town as he lurched along the ridge route with Cowboy, a handsome Palomino owned by James C. Warner, Glendale, Calif.

But there the old West faded. Instead of arranging a necktie party for Adams, the sheriff's office booked him on suspicion of grand theft horse. And yesterday the court ordered him held for trial in Superior Court.

Beck Charged With Breach of Moral Trust

WASHINGTON (UP) — The Senate held stayed on today. President Dave Beck refused even to tell investigators whether he had threatened to blow it off.

The President of the nation's biggest union invoked the Fifth Amendment when the Senate Labor Rackets committee asked if he had told reporters at Galveston, Tex., recently that he would have "blown the lid right off the Senate" if he had testified freely in his first appearance before the committee March 26-27.

By HERBERT FOSTER

WASHINGTON (UP) — Chairman John L. McClellan of the Senate Labor Rackets committee charged Teamster Union President Dave Beck today with "a breach of moral trust."

McClellan (D-Ark.) fired the charge in an opening statement as Beck returned to the witness chair where he invoked the Fifth Amendment 117 times on March 26 and 27.

"The chairman said the committee would present evidence that Beck misused union funds and his power as union president. 'The chairman feels very strongly that conflict of interest is as improper when practiced by a labor official as when it involves a government official,' McClellan said.

"In either case, the misuse of power and position for personal aggrandizement is a breach of moral trust."

"We agree wholeheartedly with the ethical practices committee of the AFL-CIO that no union leader should use his position of trust for financial or personal gain," McClellan said.

"The chairman said the hearings beginning today would also deal with 'certain businessmen who are willing, for the sake of a few dollars, to make 'dolls' of a highly improper nature.'"

Beck, who had once said he would "blow the lid right off the Senate" if he talked, was put back in the witness chair and invited to blast away.

The President of the nation's biggest union was summoned for a new series of hearings to explain about seven charges that he used his union position for personal profit of himself, his friends and family.

Committee Counsel Robert F. Kennedy said Beck was listed as the opening witness today only so he could be given a chance to make good on his threat to demolish the Senate.

The next witness was to be Irving J. Levine of Seattle, Wash., president of K L Distributing Co., a beer distributing firm in which Dave Beck Jr. once had an interest.

Beck refused to testify about his personal finances in an earlier appearance March 26-27. He was later quoted by reporters at a teamster union executive board meeting in Galveston, Tex., that he did not talk because if he had it would "blow the lid right off the Senate."

Kennedy and O'Neill Get Pulitzer Prizes

NEW YORK — The late dramatist Eugene O'Neill has won his fourth Pulitzer Prize and Sen. John F. Kennedy (D-Mass.) has won the first ever bestowed on a member of Congress.

The awards were among 14 Pulitzer Prizes in letters, journalism and music announced yesterday by the trustees of Columbia University.

O'Neill received the drama award posthumously for his autobiographical play "Long Day's Journey Into Night." It is a current Broadway hit.

The biography prize went to Kennedy, 39-year-old Massachusetts Democrat, for his "Profiles in Courage." The book is a study of political integrity as exemplified by selected U. S. politicians, some famed and some obscure.

"I'm delighted—more than delighted," said Kennedy when told of the award.

Mrs. Carlotta Monterey O'Neill, widow of the playwright, said she now knows she "did the right thing" in violating a 25-year embargo on "Journey." She authorized production of the drama here last year.

O'Neill wrote the play in 1941 but he said he did not want it staged in the United States until 25 years after his death. He died in 1953.

Only poet Robert Frost and the late playwright-biographer Robert Sherwood have also won four Pulitzer Prizes in the 40-year history of the awards.

O'Neill previously won Pulitzer Prizes for "Beyond the Horizon" (1920), "Anna Christie" (1922) and "Strange Interlude" (1928).

No fiction award was made this year. Kenneth Roberts received a special citation, however, for his novels on the nation's early history.

Committee to Resume Civil Rights Study

WASHINGTON — The House Rules Committee resume sittings on the civil rights bill today. But Democratic leader McCormack predicted the House will pass it about the end of May.

McCormack said in an interview he expects the Rules Committee to finish its hearings this week. He said he will schedule the bill for House consideration as soon as practicable thereafter, considering the parliamentary situation.

Chairman of the Rules Committee is Rep. Howard Smith (D-Va.), an outspoken opponent of the measure, who has said he is in no hurry to act on it.

Southern strategy in both the House and the Senate has been to try to kill the bill by delay. The Senate version still is awaiting action by the Judiciary Committee.

Discussing the outlook for civil rights legislation on a radio program last night, McCormack said he is confident the present Congress will pass such a bill, but that the Senate may not act until next year.

Sen. McClellan (D-Ark.) said, meanwhile, he will continue to try to attach a "right-to-work" amendment to the Senate bill despite the opposition of the new Democratic Advisory Council.

British Plan Would Halt A-Weapons

LONDON — Britain has put forward a long-range plan calling for registering, limiting and finally stopping nuclear explosions.

An American spokesman declined to comment immediately on the British proposal made yesterday to the U. N. Disarmament subcommittee.

The British plan suggested that Britain, the United States and the Soviet Union immediately draft an agreement for "advance registration with the United Nations" of nuclear test explosions. It also suggested "limited" international observation of all nuclear tests.

The plan would establish a committee of technical experts to "consider possible methods of limiting nuclear test explosions. This would lead to a cessation of nuclear tests after prohibition of the production of fissile material for weapons as part of a general disarmament agreement."

Britain's Conservative government has been under considerable pressure from the opposition Labor party to postpone its first hydrogen bomb test, scheduled for the Christmas Island area in the next few months.

Cmdr. Alan Noble, the British delegate to the subcommittee, told the five-nation group Britain is voluntarily undertaking to "conduct nuclear explosions in a way which would keep world radiation below the level where it would be hazardous."

Noble said Britain "could not agree to an isolated step, but only as part of a general disarmament agreement."

Missing Pair Believed in China

MACAO — A high police official today said he is almost certain a missing American businessman and his family have gone to Red China.

The official, who refused to be quoted by name, said he is definitely satisfied Donald J. Blackwood, 25, of Cincinnati, Ohio, and Seoul, his Korean wife and their 8-month-old son are not in Macao. He added there was no other place for them to have gone but Red China.

The family dropped from sight April 27, leaving behind an unpaid hotel bill and two suitcases. They had been due in Hong Kong 40 miles away, the next day but did not arrive.

Blackwood's father James, a Cincinnati restaurant owner, arrived in Macao tonight to help in the search for his son.

Blackwood, a former U. S. airman in South Korea, had been working for a clothing house in Seoul.

Police said they had discovered that after coming to Macao, he met a Chinese man in a restaurant to have known before and later dined with him. That was one of the last times the family was seen.

Police and American consular investigators acknowledged they had reached a blank wall in their hunt for the family. The Americans said they did not discount the story of a Chinese cook that he saw a family answering to Blackwood's description "on near-by Communist-held Lappa Island" the day after the trio disappeared from Macao.

Police said it would be easy and

Woman, Son Die in Blast of Dynamite

PARAGOULD — A woman and her 5-year-old son died in their bed in a dynamite blast which shattered an apartment house here early this morning. Police are seeking her estranged husband for questioning.

Police Sgt. W. L. Brothers said Mrs. Edna Sexton, about 36, and Charles Bittinger, a son by a former marriage, were killed in the explosion which demolished a corner of the two-story house, and blasted a hole two feet deep into the ground.

Brothers said Charles Sexton, 59, is being sought in connection with the incident. The Sextons were separated about six weeks ago and a divorce suit has been scheduled for hearing in July.

Thirteen-year-old Nancy Bittinger, who was sleeping in another bed was slightly injured in the explosion. Five other persons living in other apartments in the building escaped injury. Police said the blast was triggered beneath the house directly under the bed occupied by Mrs. Sexton and her son.

Three-year-old Jean Sexton, the object of a custody suit between the Sextons, was being held by the State Child Welfare Department and was not in the house at the time of the blast.

Marcus Feltz of Jonesboro, attorney for Mrs. Sexton, said the couple had been in Paragould about six months. Feltz said Mrs. Sexton had been frightened for her safety and that she was escorted home by police from a drive-in restaurant. Police confirmed this.

Police said Sexton was an itinerant construction worker. The couple is known to have lived in West Memphis prior to coming to Paragould.

Floods Still Menace Areas Near Houston

DALLAS — Floodwaters of the muddy lower Brazos River already swirling over a 100-square-mile area of the coastal plains southwest of Houston, continued today to menace rural areas and towns.

Thousands of acres of rich farmland were flooded, washing out spring crops and adding to the mounting flood and tornado damage inflicted during the past stormy month in Texas. Total damage was set at $5 million dollars yesterday.

The Brazos spread to a width of 13 miles in places. An estimated 125 families fled their homes.

Water inched to within two inches of Angleton in Brazoria County, some 42 miles southwest of Houston. The town lies 12 miles from the normal banks of the river.

Lodges were patched up in an effort to hold the rising water. National Guardsmen and state police were standing by to evacuate flooded residents.

Other rivers and streams in the state were down, but the Weather Bureau forecast another day of light rain today for most sections of Texas.

The Brazos began dropping at Richmond in the north central part of Fort Bend County after hitting a crest.

Assistant Warden Bob Cousins of Dairington Prison Farm said more than 50 per cent of the farms 6,770 acres were flooded. He said all crops were a complete loss.

Water lapped to within 200 yards of the prison's cell block, but no immediate danger was forecast.

Assistant Warden W. F. Green said more than 70 per cent of Ramsey Prison Farm's 15,800 acres were under water. All crops were lost he said.

Fort Bend County applied for federal disaster relief, making a total of 18 Texas counties and 35 cities seeking federal aid.

Maj. Gen. Holmes E. Dager of the federal civil defense office said the loss figure of $5 million dollars was expected to continue rising.

Belgium exports two-thirds of its steel and textiles.

Oldsters Must Adapt to Children's Ways

Dear Dorothy Dix: I would like people feel that grown children are cruel to place their parents in homes. Have those who pass judgment ever thought how wearying it can be having to care for them in one's home? The old folks become critical, fault finding, usually abuse the one who is taking care of them, and relay all the happenings in the home to their other children who have avoided the responsibility of keeping their parents.

I am single and the responsibility of caring for our parents has fallen on me. It seems that because the other children are married they are excused and their own families come first.

A READER
Dear Reader: The basic difficulty here is the unwillingness of the older people to adjust. I doubt if there's a home that couldn't use and wouldn't welcome, a pleasant, cooperative grandparent.

The trouble is, a man or woman who has been head of his own house for many years often can't relinquish the position. He, or she, interferes, tries to take hold of the reins and finds fault with everything, particularly young or teen-age children.

The oldest who is willing to settle back as an auxiliary member of the home, who is ready to be tolerant, and who can accept the fact that there are moments when his absence is preferable to his presence without getting hurt feelings about it will be sure of a warm welcome. His children will fight over the privilege of having him, instead of adroitly passing the responsibility on to others.

Dear Dorothy Dix: We five girls have always been close friends, until lately. Now we're all going out with this fine upstanding young man and all of us are in love with him. We don't know which one he loves. What should we do?

ROOMMATES
Dear Roommates: What's this fine, upstanding young man trying to do, corner the market? Draw lots for him—winner take all.

Dear Dorothy Dix: I went to a party and met a short, rather homely man, and fell in love with him. He took me home, and asked for a date, but my parents objected to him on the grounds that he was too old—28. I dated him anyway but when Dad found out, he hit me. I'm 14, old enough to know my own mind.

CORDELIA
Dear Cordelia: You sound very smart, or at least, you try to give that impression. Therefore, you should know better than to go out with a man twice your age. If you don't, Dad doesn't hit hard enough.

Six Missing as U. S. Plane Crashes

TOKYO (AP) A U. S. Air Force tanker plane crashed into the Pacific 100 miles southwest of Tokyo today. The Air Force said two crewmen were saved and six are missing.

The known survivors are Sgt. Cyril G. Hopkins, whose wife and children live in Japan, and A. C. James Martin McNeil, San Diego, Calif.

Both were reported in good condition. They parachuted into Suruga Bay before the big four-engine B-24 went down and were picked up by Japanese fishing boats.

The Japanese coast guard said it understood that four of the eight crewmen had bailed out but the Air Force had no confirmation of this.

Names of the missing men were withheld. Air Force planes and U. S. and Japanese ships were searching the area.

Approximately 200 million people in the world today depend largely on the ocean for their everyday food, says a Twentieth Century Fund report.

Kennedy and O'Neill Get Pulitzer Prizes

NEW YORK —The late dramatist Eugene O'Neill has won his fourth Pulitzer Prize and Sen. John F. Kennedy (D-Mass.) has won the first ever bestowed on a member of Congress.

The awards were among 14 Pulitzer Prizes in letters, journalism and music announced yesterday by the trustees of Columbia University.

O'Neill received the drama award posthumously for his autobiographical play "Long Day's Journey Into Night." It is a current Broadway hit.

The biography prize went to Kennedy, 39-year-old Massachusetts Democrat, for his "Profiles in Courage." The book is a study of political integrity as exemplified by selected U. S. politicians, some famed and some obscure.

"I'm delighted—more than delighted," said Kennedy when told of the award.

Mrs. Carlotta Monterey O'Neill, widow of the playwright, said she now knows she "did the right thing" in violating a 25-year embargo on "Journey." She authorized production of the drama here last year.

O'Neill wrote the play in 1941 but he said he did not want it staged in the United States until 25 years after his death. He died in 1953.

Only poet Robert Frost and the late playwright-biographer Robert Sherwood have also won four Pulitzer Prizes in the 40-year history of the awards.

O'Neill previously won Pulitzer Prizes for "Beyond the Horizon" (1920), "Anna Christie" (1922) and "Strange Interlude" (1928).

No fiction award was made this year. Kenneth Roberts received a special citation, however, for his novels on the nation's early history.

Committee to Resume Civil Rights Study

WASHINGTON —The House Rules Committee resume its hurried consideration of the civil rights bill today. But Democratic leader McCormack predicted the House will pass it about the end of May.

McCormack said in an interview he expects the Rules Committee to finish its hearings this week. He said he will schedule the bill for House consideration as soon as practicable thereafter, considering the parliamentary situation.

Chairman of the Rules Committee is Rep. Howard Smith (D-Va.) an outspoken opponent of the measure, who has said he is in no hurry to act on it.

Southern strategy in both the House and the Senate has been to try to kill the bill by delay. The Senate version still is awaiting action by the Judiciary Committee.

Discussing the outlook for civil rights legislation on a radio program last night, McCormack said he is confident the present Congress will pass such a bill, but that the Senate may not act until next year.

Sen. McClellan (D-Ark.) said, meanwhile, he will continue to try to attach a "right-to-work" amendment to the Senate bill despite the opposition of the new Democratic Advisory Council.

And as for the statement of Senate Republican Leader Knowland of California that adoption of the amendment would "clearly kill" the civil rights measure, McClellan said:

Woman, Son Die in Blast of Dynamite

PARAGOULD —A woman and her 5-year-old son died in their bed in a dynamite blast which shattered an apartment house here early this morning. Police are seeking her estranged husband for questioning.

Police Sgt. W. L. Brothers said Mrs. Edna Sexton, about 36, and Charles Bittinger, a son by a former marriage, were killed in the explosion which demolished a corner of the two-story house and blasted a hole two feet deep into the ground.

Brothers said Charles Sexton, 59, is being sought in connection with the incident. The Sextons were separated about six weeks ago and a divorce suit has been scheduled for hearing in July.

Thirteen-year-old Nancy Bittinger, who was sleeping in another bed was slightly injured in the explosion. Five other persons living in other apartments in the building, escaped injury. Police said the blast was triggered beneath the house directly under the bed occupied by Mrs. Sexton and her son.

Three-year-old Jean Sexton, the object of a custody suit between the Sextons, was being held by the State Child Welfare Department and was not in the house at the time of the blast.

Marcus Feitz of Jonesboro, attorney for Mrs. Sexton, said the couple had been in Paragould about six months. Feitz said Mrs. Sexton had been frightened for her safety and that she was escorted home by police from a drive-in restaurant. Police confirmed this.

Police said Sexton was an itinerant construction worker. The couple is known to have lived in West Memphis prior to coming to Paragould.

cheap to hire one of the hundreds of junks lining the waterfront for the trip across the 500-yard channel separating Macao from Lappa.

The Portuguese authorities added if the Blackwoods did go to Lappa, they probably are not there now. They said the Kwangtung government, which has jurisdiction over the island, is under orders to move any "intruders" to Canton at once.

DOROTHY DIX

Oldsters Must Adapt to Children's Ways

Dear Dorothy Dix: I would like people feel that grown children are cruel to place their parents in homes. Have those who pass judgment ever thought how wearying it can be having to care for them in one's home? The old folks become critical, fault finding, usually abuse the one who is taking care of them, and relay all the happenings in the home to their other children who have avoided the responsibility of keeping their parents.

I am single and the responsibility of caring for our parents has fallen on me. It seems that because the other children are married they are excused and their own families come first.

A READER
Dear Reader: The basic difficulty here is the unwillingness of the older people to adjust. I doubt if there's a home that couldn't use and wouldn't welcome, a pleasant, cooperative grandparent.

The trouble is, a man or woman who has been head of his own house for many years often can't relinquish the position. He, or she, interferes, tries to take hold of the reins and finds fault with everything, particularly young or teen-age children. The oldster who is willing to settle back as an auxiliary member of the home, who is ready to be tolerant, and who can accept the fact that there are moments when his absence is preferable to his presence without getting hurt feelings about it will be sure of a warm welcome. His children will fight over the privilege of having him, instead of adroitly passing the responsibility on to others.

Dear Dorothy Dix: We five girls have always been close friends, until lately. Now we're all going out with this fine upstanding young man and all of us are in love with him. We don't know which one he loves. What should we do?

ROOMMATES
Dear Roommates: What's this fine, upstanding young man trying to do, corner the market? Draw lots for him — winner take all.

Dear Dorothy Dix: I went to a party and met a short, rather homely man, and fell in love with him. He took me home, and asked for a date, but my parents objected to him on the grounds that he was too old — 28. I dated him anyway but when Dad found out, he hit me. I'm 14, old enough to know my own mind.

CORDELIA
Dear Cordelia: You sound very smart, or at least, you try to give that impression. Therefore, you should know better than to go out with a man twice your age. If you don't, Dad doesn't hit hard enough.

Six Missing as U. S. Plane Crashes

TOKYO (AP) — A U. S. Air Force tanker plane crashed into the Pacific 100 miles southwest of Tokyo today. The Air Force said two crewmen were saved and six are missing.

The known survivors are Sgt. Cyril G. Hopkins, whose wife and children live in Japan, and A. J. C. James Martin McNeil, San Diego, Calif.

Both were reported in good condition. They parachuted into Suruga Bay before the big four-engine KC-95 went down and were picked up by Japanese fishing boats.

The Japanese coast guard said it understood that four of the eight crewmen had bailed out but the Air Force had no confirmation of this. Names of the missing men were withheld. Air Force planes and U. S. and Japanese ships were searching the area.

Approximately 200 million people in the world today depend largely on the ocean for their everyday food, says a Twentieth Century Fund report.

Studies More Credit to Home Buyers

WASHINGTON (H. Hing) A presidential veto proceeded House consideration today of a bill to extend mortgage credit and set up new home-buying preferences for war veterans.

As House leaders called up the big one-package housing measure, Rep. Talle (R-Iowa) said a "bad bill" would be sure to invite a veto.

Both Talle and Republican leaders left no doubt they considered as a "bad bill" the measure sent to the House by the Democratic majority of the House Banking Committee.

The House Veterans Affairs Committee also has opposed the bill's provision for a special veterans housing program under the Federal Housing Administration and the inclusion of some GI provisions which the veterans affairs group had rejected earlier.

Public housing is not involving in the present bill.

Rep. Rains (D-Ala.), author of the committee bill, said it is "almost altogether a mortgage credit bill" to make home buying easier and act as a spur to the lagging home construction industry.

Shelton led in prayer after which a "dainty" dessert course was served by the hostesses.

Lions Club Hear Dean Whiteside

Dean Whiteside of the State Department of Education was the guest speaker at the weekly meeting of the Lions Club on Thursday noon at the Lawson Hotel.

Wallace Sage introduced Principal Harold Smith who in turn introduced Mr. Whiteside who spoke on "What Education is Doing to Our Children today."

Rev. Connie Horton was a guest.

Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Bemis were the weekend guests of Mrs. D. K. Bemis in Texarkana and they attended ceremonies in Jefferson Texas on Sunday commemorating the restoration of historic places.

Mr. and Mrs. W. R. Hambright spent the weekend in Dallas, Texas as the guests of Mrs. Sadie Hambright.

Mr. and Mrs. Tom Bemis are vacationing at points of interest in Florida.

Mr. and Mrs. Allen Gee were the guests Sunday of Mr. and Mrs. Allen Gee Jr., Gail and Bill in Russellville.

Mrs. Jim Nelson, Walter and Jane and Mrs. Mark Justiss and Bill spent Saturday in Texarkana.

Norfolk to Treat British Seamen

LONDON (H. Hing) How far east a far on a dollar a day in Norfolk, Va.

Some 2,000 sailors on three British warships are worried, because a dollar a day is all they're getting when they attend the U. S. naval review at Norfolk June 8-17.

The ships are Britain's biggest aircraft carrier, the Ark Royal, and the destroyers Diamond and Duchess.

The daily spending money limit was fixed by the British treasury, which suffers a chronic shortage of U. S. currency.

British newspapers reported some of the sailors are grumbling that they will be a known bunch of poor Limeys, an Admiralty spokesman said he thought a dollar a day would be enough they will live on board, where all essentials are available.

The spokesman conceded that he had never personally tried having fun in Norfolk on a bunch a day. He did not demur when it was suggested that the lads would want something more than shipboard essentials.

Bus Companies Must Pay Income Taxes

By LEON HATCH
LITTLE ROCK (H. Hing) — The Arkansas Supreme Court today held that two interstate bus companies which operate in Arkansas must pay delinquent state income taxes levied against them by Revenue Commissioner J. Orville Cheney.

The unanimous ruling reversed a decision of Pulaski Chancellor Guy E. Williams.

The unanimous ruling reversed a decision of Pulaski Chancellor Guy E. Williams.

The dispute between the revenue commissioner on one side and the Continental Southern Lines, Inc., and the Transcontinental Bus System, Inc., on the other centered on whether a statutory formula for determining the Arkansas tax return of companies operating also in other states was applicable in the case of the two bus lines.

An opinion written by Associate Justice Minor Millwee said the two companies contended their own method of determining the tax return was fairer than the statutory formula.

The opinion added that in an earlier case involving a railroad similar contentions were thoroughly considered and determined against the carrier under facts and circumstances perhaps more favorable to it than those involved here" and that the U. S. Supreme Court had refused to review the state high court decision.

Involved in the consolidated cases decided today was $1214.00 plus interest against Continental and $2,832.81 plus interest against Transcontinental.

The companies paid the principal sums under protest after Cheney levied deficiency assessments against them and then filed suit for recovery in Chancery Court.
